

NORTHWEST MARQUE CLUBS

SHELBY AMERICAN AUTOMOBILE CLUB

Shelby American Automobile Club is a nation-wide organization with some 6,000 members dedicated to the preservation and enjoyment of the World Manufacturer's Championship cars from Shelby American.

Its annual convention, the Shelby Round-up, runs from July 18-20. A similar yearly convention is put on by a national SCCA group, drawing thousands of members every year. SCCA Northwest also participates in display shows, corrals and parade laps, and organizes its own concours, a special Forest Grove display, an autocross, banquet and paddock corral, and parade lap at the Portland Historic Automobile Races.

For more information, contact SCCA Northwest, 149 Canemah Way, Oregon City, OR 97045 or call 655-0051.

FERRARI CLUB OF AMERICA

The Ferrari Club of America is an organization with 2000 members dedicated to inspire ownership, operation, restoration and preservation of Ferrari Automobiles nation and world wide. Ownership of a Ferrari is not a prerequisite for membership.

In the Northwest Region of the Ferrari Club (Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Alaska), there are about 100 members. Major club events include the annual concours at Forest Grove, several road trips during the year, and participation in Rose Cup events.

Within the club there has been a network established for passing information to members regarding the location of Ferrari cars, parts, specifications & service. For membership information or any general information, contact Ted Halton Jr. P.O. Box 3377, Portland OR. 97266, or call Charlie Farnsworth at 503-777-2929.

AUSTIN HEALEY CLUB OF OREGON

Maintaining a membership of nearly 125, the Oregon-based club attracts members from as far away as California and British Columbia.

The club's biggest events include the Mt. Rainier International Campout and Tour, the Austin Healey West Coast Meet and Tour, an annual banquet at the Medieval Inn and the Sheridan Days Parade. Last year the club sponsored the West Coast gathering in Bend, which the famous Healey family traveled from England to attend.

Anyone owning an Austin Healey who wishes to find out more about the club, may contact John Lowsley, Activities Chairman, at 252-2293, or write the club at P.O. Box 4532, Portland, OR. 97208.

ROSE CITY CORVETTE CLUB

So popular is the interest in Corvettes, that Portland and Oregon alone maintain a vast number of clubs. Since the car was first built 27 years ago, Vette enthusiasts have held gatherings and traded ideas on upkeep of "America's only true sports car."

The biggest event of the year, the annual Corvette Corral, takes place during Rose Festival time and is provided through the efforts of four local Corvette enthusiasts. Vette owners from Oregon, Washington and Canada attend the Corral, which invites Oregon members to enjoy other social functions, tours, rallies, swap meets, restoration seminars, concours and auto-crossing.

For more information regarding a club in your area, call Bill or Bev Ranney, 667-2145, Rose City Corvettes in Portland; Bert Lukens, 256-3186, NW/NCRS; or John Hydorn, 255-0600, Northwest Corvette Association, Vancouver, Washington.

TRANS AM CLUB OF OREGON

A statewide organization, which participates in various events, the Trans Am Club provides periodical newsletters on its gatherings such as parades, rallies, swap meets and other events.

Formed out of the Eugene-Springfield area in 1976, the Trans Am Club maintains statewide membership and sports the Trans Am Weekend (during the Rose Festival), as its largest event. Many Pontiac dealers have agreed to offer discounts to the club in exchange for special car promotions and patronage of their dealerships, but only to those with membership cards.

For more information regarding the Trans Am club, call Jim Meehan, 854-3690 in Detroit, Oregon; John Morison, 661-3705 in Gresham, or write to Trans Am Club of Oregon, P.O. Box 515, Detroit, Oregon 97342.

ALFA ROMEO CLUB

Building a club around a car first introduced to the world in 1910, Alfa Romeo Club contains 55 members, welcoming those who carry the slightest interest in the car's history. The club meets every third Wednesday and calls Tigard its home base. Members enjoy traveling the back roads of Oregon and share the spotlight with other marque clubs at the Rose Cup races every year.

The Alfa Romeo Club welcomes anyone who cares, to attend its meetings. For more information, call Bill Daemke at 289-0004.
